

AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF
Social and Ethical Accountability

As the number of organisations in Australia choosing to account for their social, environmental and economic performance grows, there are precious few places where the wide range of practitioners and stakeholders can debate, critique, share ideas, and just talk about the experiences, including the benefits and challenges.

The Australian Institute of Social and Ethical Accountability presents the Practitioners Talk Series as a forum to address this need. Each Talk features a range of panellists who lead the discussion by telling their stories. This interactive world café event allows participants to engage and discuss with fellow participants as well as panellists working in the area.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

John Pearce

John is a pioneer in social accounting and audit and has been working in community development since the 1970s. He managed Strathclyde Community Business and was a founding member of Community Business Scotland. John is a key author of the Social Audit Network's Social Accounting and Audit Manual used as a guide by many organizations. Although aimed primarily at social economy practitioners and social enterprises, it does in fact "provide a straightforward and accessible starting point for all" (Jane Gibbon, University of Northumbria). John is also engaged in running a social audit program in Scotland, and has managed social audit initiatives in the UK and internationally.

Accountability World Café discussion session

We invite you to join us for an interactive discussion on social accountability in the not-for-profit sector. This 'world café' style event will give participants and speakers the opportunity to discuss and debate the central issues around the benefits and challenges of not-for-profit social accountability. Speakers from the government, not-for-profit and corporate sectors will lead the discussion in a café style format.
