

Triple Bottom Line Accounting Workshop

As the number of organisations in Australia choosing to account for their social, environmental and economic (TBL) performance and impact grows, there is an ever increasing need for training workshops.

The Australian Institute of Social and Ethical Accountability presents a two-day workshop to assist you in transforming your organisation using an accessible TBL framework developed and used extensively in the United Kingdom.

The workshop is aimed at senior, middle and executive management of any organisation that has social, environmental and economic impacts. Potential TBL facilitators/trainers are also encouraged to attend.

The Australian Institute of Social and Ethical Accountability presents

A Triple Bottom Line Accounting Workshop The Two-Day Workshop

The workshop will cover the Social Audit Network UK Three Step process in detail and will result in an understanding about how the process can be applied to your organisation. Time for learning about other TBL tools will also occur. There will be presentations from the facilitators as well as discussion and shared learning amongst participants. All participants should bring a laptop. Workshop notes will provide explanations/examples to take away for later use.

Facilitators

John Pearce

Community Business Scotland,
Social Audit Network UK

John is a key author in the Social Accounting and Audit Manuals (2002, 2005) used as a guide by many organisations. Although aimed primarily at social economy practitioners and social enterprises it does in fact, 'provide a straightforward and accessible starting point for all' (Jane Gibbon, University of Northumbria). John is also engaged in running a social audit program in Scotland, and has managed social audit initiatives in the UK and internationally.

Marcelle Holdaway

Accounting for Life, Maleny, Qld

Marcelle is a Director with the Australian Institute of Social and Ethical Accountability. She has been working in the field of TBL since 1999 and is the sole Social Audit Network UK registered social auditor in Australia. As well as auditing TBL accounts Marcelle works with Mission Australia Queensland as Project Leader with their TBL accounting project.
